Task 1

Introduction

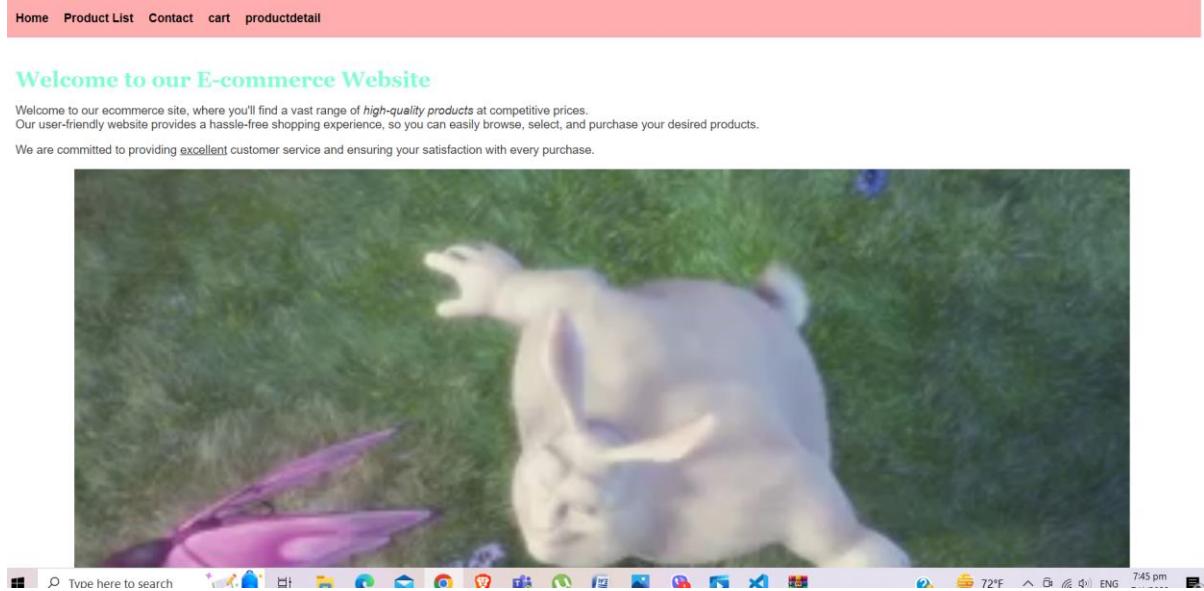

In this Task 1 of the assignment of the subject code EC3122 I have made an e-commerce website by using html tags External CSS. I have included different types of web pages in my websites. They are Homepage, Product page , Cart page, Product-details page and Contact page. I have made my webpage. I have used different types of tags like header, title, body, nav, images, video and in making the webpage.

Summary

An e-commerce website is an online platform where businesses can sell their products or services to customers through the internet. It allows customers to browse and purchase products, make payments, and have their purchases delivered to them.

Typically, an e-commerce website includes features such as product listings, shopping cart functionality, checkout pages, and payment processing. Some e-commerce websites may also offer additional features such as customer accounts, wishlists, product reviews, and recommendations based on customer behavior.

To operate an e-commerce website, businesses need to establish a secure online presence, develop an attractive and user-friendly website, manage inventory and orders, and provide excellent customer service. They may also need to consider digital marketing strategies such as search engine optimization (SEO) and social media advertising to attract customers and drive sales.

Conclusion

E-commerce websites have transformed the way businesses sell their products and services, and the way consumers shop. They offer numerous benefits such as convenience, accessibility, and a wider range of products. E-commerce websites also provide businesses with opportunities to expand their customer base and reach new markets. As more consumers turn to online shopping, the importance of e-commerce websites will only continue to grow. Businesses that are able to adapt to this trend and provide a seamless online shopping experience for their customers will be well-positioned to succeed in the future.
